Abandoned by their parents, beaten up by gangs, rejected by the public schools... thousands of children across Eastern Europe are destined to a life on the street -- a life of danger and disappointment, sicknesses and addictions, seeming hopelessness. But little by little, we are being able to give hope to many of these young ones.

Donors' contributions are presently helping us to support eight orphanages run by our churches in Ukraine and Romania. The number of children in each home ranges from 9 to 120, and we give thanks for every meal we are able to serve to one of these children, and for every child we are able to give a warm, dry bed to sleep in. Our program has already placed over 120 children in Christian families. In addition to homes, we have several feeding programs operating in various countries throughout Eastern Europe. So many of these children have chilling testimonies of the life they were delivered from by being brought into one of these homes.

We are helping to make a difference, but the need remains extremely great. Tens of thousands of these children are still alone on the streets, and we desperately need to expand our feeding and housing programs to be able to take in more children. It costs approximately $30 for a children's home to care for one child for one month; this covers meals, a warm bed, education, and any necessary medical treatment. Of course, funds are also needed for the purchase and regular maintenance of the buildings themselves, as well as an adequate staff including houseparents, tutors and a cook.
